There's a limit to everything. Patience, taxes, your brother-in-laws stories and the capacity of the auditorium of the Scottish Rite Cathedral. And that limit was stretched a bit Wednesday night, October 27, when an all soldier cast from Camp Reynolds presented "Soldiers In Grease Paint" in furtherance of the WAC recruiting campaign.

Exactly how many were present will never be known but it wasn't under 3,700. Every seat was taken every inch of standing room, some stood out in the ambulatory and looked through the doors, and hundreds were turned away. At 6:55

Allied Armies In Italy Make Further Gains

Drawing Nearer To Contact With Bulk Of Nazi Army Across Italy

EIGHTH ARMY DRIVES NAZIS OUT OF TOWN

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Oct. 28.—Allied armies in Italy smashed out further gains on the central sector of the battlefield today in a drive for positions from which to loose an assault on the new Nazi defense line stretching east from Mondragone to Vasto on the Adriatic coast.

In bitter fighting north of San Stefano the Eighth Army drove the Germans from the strategic town of Torella.

Headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced that Castellmauro, approximately 17 miles northwest of Biferno, had been cleared of the enemy by the Fifth Army and that Mafalda also is in Allied hands.

The Fifth Army on the western sector of the trans-peninsular front captured Riardo.

Soon To Contact Bulk Of Nazis

The free Italian radio at Bari reported the Eighth Army advanced at least four miles and declared that "the hour is approaching when Allied troops will contact the bulk of the Germans across Italy."

"The Fifth Army, despite the return of unfavorable weather, has restricted operations, gained additional important high ground north of Raviscanina west of the Massico Ridge.

The Cairo radio said that Rome now has virtually been cut off from the rest of the world and declared the Germans are falling back steadily on the Venafr-Mondragone line on the Fifth Army front while Nazi patrols fight stern rear-guard actions.

(A broadcast by the German agency DNB said the Nazis had evacuated Montefalcone, Montemiro and Torella.)

Tougher Resistance

Front reports indicated that the Germans were getting tougher all along the front as the Allies struck deeper into the new enemy defense line in jagged advances.

New U. S. Landing Near Bouganville Reported By Japs

(International News Service)
Allied forces extending their campaign to gain complete control of the Solomon Islands have gone ashore on a small island just below Bouganville last remaining Japanese stronghold, Japanese imperial headquarters announced today.

In a communique broadcast by the Tokyo radio it was said that the Allied forces landed on Mono Island, southwest of Shortland Island, which lies just off the southern tip of Bouganville.

The landing on Mono was effected "early Wednesday morning," said the broadcast recorded by the FCC.

According to imperial headquarters Japanese naval aircraft attacked the Allied convoy, "instantaneously" sinking one warship and damaging another.

No Confirmation

There was no official confirmation of the reported landing operation either from Washington or Allied headquarters in the South Pacific. Such a drive has been anticipated (Continued On Page Two)

First Reports In Fund Drive Total $38,700

Team Workers Meet At Noon Today For First Campaign Reports

MEET AGAIN ON SATURDAY NOON

Meeting for the first report in the United War Fund and Community Chest fund campaign today in The Castleton hotel, workers reported a total of $38,700 subscribed against the quota for New Castle of $125,000. No report meeting will be held on Friday, the next meeting being Saturday at noon in The Castleton.

Judge John G. Lamoree, chairman of the drive, presided at the meeting today and called for several short talks.

P. J. Flaherty presented a breakdown of the $125,000,000 asked for from the entire nation and showed that about half of the money will go to the United Service Organization, with the Russian and Chinese relief organizations getting a large part. Most of the organizations represented in the campaign, at least insofar as the outside organizations are concerned get slight amounts of money from what will be collected in New Castle.

Fred L. Rentz, president of The News, spoke briefly and predicted that this campaign would go over.

Rev. G. S. Bennett spoke and said that some refusals had been made because persons were not interested in some of the organizations. He suggested that contributors could name their own organizations to which they wanted to give.

The total reported today, $38,700, is considered excellent in view of the fact that this was the first report. Saturday is expected to show a large increase over today's total.

Jap Air Strength Suffers Another Disastrous Blow

Hundred And One Jap Planes Are Destroyed Or Damaged On Rabaul

SEVENTY JAP ZEROS SEEK TO INTERCEPT

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 28.—Jap air strength in the southwest Pacific was further depleted today through a new smashing assault by American Liberator bombers on Rabaul in which 101 enemy planes were destroyed or damaged.

The four-motored B-24s zoomed in over the target through terrific anti-aircraft barrages sent up from warships and land batteries to hammer the New Britain island base with 151 tons of bombs. Fighter opposition also was strong.

On Lakunai Airfield

The assault, the third consecutive allied aerial blow in as many days, was concentrated on the Lakunai airfield near the Rabaul waterfront. The bombers destroyed 21 parked planes and set fire to 23 others caught on the ground.

A force of 70 Jap Zeros shot into the air in an effort to intercept the American bombers and in ensuing dogfights 37 of the enemy craft were knocked out of the sky and 20 additional planes were damaged.

U. S. Aiming At Adequate Bases Close To Japan

By CLINTON GREEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 28.—Once the United States gets "adequate bases" close to Japan, the Japanese will be treated to day and night bombardment, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz promised today.

The commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, in a Navy Day speech, emphasized the need for obtaining such bases close enough to the Japanese homeland before unleashing American air and naval superiority. He pointed out that lack of bases limits United States radius of influence and control to "distances considerably less than half our cruising range."

Japs Will Get Pastings

Once having attained those offensive bases, though, Nimitz added.

Germans On Red Front Are Facing Likely Disaster

So Declares Secretary Stimson—Discusses Allied Plane Losses

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary of War Stimson declared today that American and British combat plane losses since July 1942, have averaged less than five per cent of the number participating.

At the same time the Secretary, in his weekly war review, stated that the Germans on the Russian front face a possible "disaster" unless they escape the Russian trap which is closing around the Nazis in the Dnieper bend sector.

"While losses in individual air raids over Europe have been high, the overall U. S. and British losses since the Eighth Air Force began operating total less than five per cent," Stimson told newsmen.

Revises Destruction

The Secretary also revised upward from 100 to 186 planes the number of enemy aircraft destroyed in the recent U. S. bombing attack on the Nazi industrial city of Schweinfurt.

He said that originally reports showed 100 enemy planes destroyed, but later information placed German losses at 186 aircraft shot down (Continued On Page Two)

MOSCOW, Oct. 28.—Shattered German armies in flight across the Nogais Steppe toward the lower Dnieper river were attacked on the northern flank and from the rear today by mobile Red army units which caught up with the retreating Nazis.

Russian tanks and artillery units were sweeping back the Germans west of captured Melitopol with "unchecked momentum."

The Soviets slashed repeatedly at the heels of the battleweary Germans to clear the invaders from the lower Dnieper area north of the Crimea.

(London evening newspapers quoted the Moscow radio as announcing Red army units now are more than 45 miles west of Melitopol.)

Pound Out Big Gains

Red army units lunged forward after pounding out gains of nearly 19 miles along a 72-mile front extending from the big bend of the Dnieper to the Sea of Azov.

The routed Nazi force within the stream's big loop retreated hurriedly to escape the steadily-closing jaws of a Red army pincer. The encircling Russian arms already had narrowed the enemy's escape corridor to less than 90 miles.

Reveals Heroism In Naval Battle

Admiral Woodward Tells How U. S. Flier Gave Life To Save Carrier

LURED TEN JAP PLANES OUT TO SEA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Admiral C. H. Woodward revealed in a navy day speech how a heroic young navy flier lured ten Japanese planes out to sea during a battle in the South Pacific early last year and sacrificed his life to save the aircraft carrier Lexington which later was sunk.

The hero was Lieut. Paul Baker, of San Diego, Calif., and although the incident occurred in May, 1942 Woodward said the facts had never been made public.

In Coral Sea Battle
The incident occurred during the now famous Coral Sea battle in which an American aircraft carrier task force blasted the Japanese armada to check the enemy's drive toward Australia.

Since three Japanese carriers had been sunk or knocked out of action, it was feared that the ten Jap planes might make a suicide attack against the Lexington.

"Baker was ordered by a radio to turn off his landing lights and under no conditions to attempt a landing," Woodward said.

"He sized up the situation instantly. During the radio exchange the Japs had located his position and were closing in. Without hesitation he turned his plane away from the carrier and headed for the open sea luring the Japs after him. The men aboard the Lexington saw his plane disappear into the night, deliberately facing certain death at the hands of the enemy or the ocean to make certain that his carrier was safe."

In addition, it was said, all factories within a 60-mile zone west of the Dniester must be removed to Rumania.

RED ARMY UNITS CATCHING UP TO RETREATING NAZIS

hilation in the southern Ukraine. The Russians are said to be killing 10,000 of the enemy daily.

The Nazi retreat in the Dnieper bend was described as a "rout" with Field Marshal Erich von Manstein's troops in the bend and north of the Crimea being cut into uncoordinated units. These groups were staggering back without any supreme control. The London paper added that "the twilight of an army was setting in."

Parachute Fuel
(Around Krivoriog, vital rail and mining center, the Germans were reported by the London paper to be parachuting fuel to the embattled garrison, units of which were cut off in the northern suburbs.)

Suddenly breaking German resistance from Zaporozhye to the Sea of Azov, Gen. Fedor I. Tolbukhin's Fourth Ukrainian army smashed ahead from six to 19 miles to wrest more than 90 towns from the enemy. Included in these inhabited localities were 24 district centers, large towns and rail stations.

Southernmost objective to fall to the triumphant Red army was Goryelov, Azov seaport which flanks the German-held port of Geichik in the tip of the Crimea. Also taken in this drive were Fedorovka, rail junction north of Melitopol, and Akimovka on the rail line running southwest into the Crimea.

Capture Many Prisoners
The advance southeast of the Dnieper's lower reaches cut three important highways and captured many prisoners, in addition to annihilating about 3,000 more Nazi troops.

More than 10,000 Soviet citizens whom the Germans were driving away to hard labor in Germany were liberated, the midnight supplement to the Soviet communique added.

Altogether, the day's advances on various sectors of the long Russian front liberated upwards of 170 more towns from the Nazi yoke. In addition to the 90 odd localities freed around the Nogais Steppes, the Red army occupied 30 inhabited localities southwest of recently-captured Dnepropetrovsk, and at least 50 more in a new drive northwest of Vitebsk.

Germans Retreating
Within the big Dnieper bend, the Germans were retreating under massive blows by the Russian ground and air forces. Southwest of Dnepropetrovsk, the Russians advanced up to nine miles, liberating more than 30 towns.

The tactical junction of Apolostovo, where lines from Dnepropetrovsk, Zaporozhye and Krivoriog intersect, was subjected to a withering bombardment by the Russian air force.

There was little reported of action in the vicinity of Krivoriog, vital mining and rail center which is at the spearhead of the northern arm of the Russian pincer. The Red army already had invaded the city on three sides, siezing all but one of the outlying rail stations.

FALSE ALARM
City firemen were called to the corner of Hamilton and Electric streets at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday by an alarm from Box 59. Fireman James E. Thomas reported. No fire was found in the vicinity, however.

It is claimed that more than two million, 500 thousand persons in the United States suffer annually from asthma and hay fever.

The southernmost point of Canada is Point Pelee, near Leamington, Ontario. It projects 10 miles into Lake Erie.

Capua-Rome highway in a mile and a half advance against stiff Nazi rear-guard fighting.

The strength of the new enemy positions was indicated in the added use by the Germans of field and medium artillery entrenched in strong points.

The right wing of the Fifth Army pressing forward on the central sector is enmeshed in the worst sort of terrain. The rocky area is entirely unsuited for swift armored thrusts since it is devoid of plains.

Gains scored by both the Fifth and Eighth armies were due partially to the readjustment by the Germans of their defense line.

At the easternmost end of the front along the Adriatic the Eighth Army firmly secured its bridgehead across the Tridino river in the face of active enemy resistance. British engineers threw bridges across the waterway despite shelling by the enemy. Reports from the Eighth Army front described artillery fire everywhere and said the barges were intact.

Seek To Delay Advance
In the Bologna area, the central sector manned by the Eighth, the Germans are fighting hard to delay progress toward Isernia. Castellmauro was captured only after the hardest kind of fighting. The advance to Castellmauro marked a mile and a half gain while the drive into Torrella was achieved in a two and a half mile advance.

Headquarters disclosed meanwhile that since the landing of the Fifth Army at Salerno Allied anti-aircraft units have destroyed 48 German planes, probably destroyed another 35 and damaged at least 48.

"Troops of the Eighth Army are fighting their way forward through difficult country," said Gen. Eisenhower's communique.

"Enemy positions are strongly held. They cover all main approaches and have to be dealt with in detail."

"Our progress is satisfactory. Torrella has been captured after stiff fighting and Castellmauro is clear of the enemy. Mafalda is in our hands."

"The Fifth Army has gained additional important high ground. Riardo has been taken."

Bad weather greatly restricted the northwest African air forces. However, invader fighter-bombers and fighters attacked gun positions at Gaeta and patrols maintained sorties over the battle areas.

The most effective blows were lost by both the Fifth and Eighth armies on the central sector of the 90-mile battlefield. The thrusts by Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army of American and British troops were directed toward Venafro while the British Eighth Army forces under Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery concentrated on moving up toward Isernia, key road and rail junction in central Italy.

Little action was reported in either the Tyrrhenian sea or Adriatic sea coastal areas, but the Americans midway along their half of the front grabbed off another few miles of territory by sending one spearhead into Montecassino. Eastward along the Eighth Army front, the British seized Acquafredda and Civita Campomarano.

The Fifth Army advances netted the Yanks additional high ground commanding coastal roads to the west. In sharp clashes with German rear-guard units which put up stubborn resistance the Americans ousted the enemy from heights northwest of Raviscanina and Francolise.

While the Germans fought bitterly on some sectors to hold protecting key positions, covering the withdrawal of their main units to the Mondragone-Vasto line, Nazi units at other points dropped back automatically and enabled the Americans to make limited advances with little effort.

JAP AIR STRENGTH SUFFERS ANOTHER DISASTROUS BLOW

allied campaign to sap the Japanese air strength, the Japs raced three cruisers out into the bay adjacent to the airfield. Anti-aircraft batteries on the decks of the ships sent up a withering hail of fire.

In addition to the destruction and damage of grounded planes, the fighter-escorted Liberators caused extensive damage to the Lakunai field.

Other Raids
Gen. MacArthur disclosed that fighter-escorted heavy medium torpedo and dive-bombers blasted the Kahili airfield at the lower end of Bougainville airfield in the Solomons in three separate attacks. They encountered no opposition. Bomb bursts shattered the runway, dispersal areas and gun positions. Bombs also dropped among five parked airplanes.

A nearby airfield in the Buna area torpedo and dive-bombers heavily damaged the runway and dispersal points at that airfield. One Jap bomber and one fighter were destroyed on the ground and three anti-aircraft positions were wrecked.

Medium bombers attacked the village on Treasury Island.

Also in the Solomons area allied medium units bombed and strafed Jap installations at Choiseul bay and Kakasa.

At the northern end of Bougainville, in the vicinity of Buka, a night reconnaissance plane scored a direct hit on a Jap destroyer and a night patrol bombed the Buka airfield.

and 27 probably destroyed. In that raid the American bomber losses were 60 planes, and Stimson pointed out that such losses raised the question of whether we can afford to keep up the attacks.

Stimson revealed that the heavy losses in individual raids are counter-balanced by light losses in other attacks. Specifically, the Secretary recalled that in a recent raid by American bombers on northern France 501 planes participated and none were lost.

Assured with Russian Drive
The Secretary devoted most of his war review to the Russian situation on the Russian front, and he was pleased with recent Russian victories which threatened to isolate large groups of Germans in the Crimea.

"Apparently the Germans are suffering a major defeat which may be the proportions of a disaster if they are trapped by the advancing Russians," Stimson said.

He said the Germans are believed to be withdrawing large numbers of their troops from the Crimea and that the Nazis may abandon the entire Dnieper river line to make a defensive stand far to the west.

"Great numbers of German troops may be captured or annihilated in the current fighting," Stimson added.

ing to extend this principle to the rest of the European continent, except for the Baltic states of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia. Those territories have already been incorporated into the Soviet Union, and little hope is held that Stalin will agree to their restoration as separate states after the war.

Question Not Raised

Contrary to published reports, however, it is understood the question of the future of those Baltic states has not been raised at the Moscow conference up to the present. Nor has the future of Finland been discussed yet.

Likewise, the diplomatic advice reaching Washington from Moscow have contained no mention of a Soviet demand for a "corridor" to the Aegean Sea. It would cause no surprise in Washington if Russia eventually insists on the right of free passage through the Dardanelles.

The discussions appear to be proceeding on the broader basis of general principles. It is considered possible that the detailed application of these principles to specific countries or areas may be left for later consideration, perhaps by President Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin if and when they meet.

WAC Presentation

Lieutenant Margaret E. Mullineux, in charge of the local WAC recruiting station, expressed the appreciation of the WACs for the cooperation given so freely in the presentation of the show and thanked especially the Neshannock Post 315, Veterans of Foreign Wars for their sponsorship of the show here. Earl Cummins, the chairman for the VFW, got an additional thank you for his untiring work. The New Castle News and a number of individuals were thanked also for their help. Lieutenant Mullineux then introduced Captain Regina Hill, head of the Pittsburgh recruiting office.

Captain Hill reminded young women eligible to join the WACs that the war could be over sooner if more men could take their places upon the firing line. This could be helped, she said, if women would join the WAC and thus release men for active duty. She urged more enlistments from this district.

With Captain Hill were 15 good looking young women in WAC uniforms who aided with the ushering. The usher corps was composed of uniformed men of the VFW and some of the Service Unit of the Cathedral. In addition to ushering the VFW men policed the foyer and saw to it that no more than a capacity crowd got in. The vets did an excellent job.

Rolling Back Show

Rolling back is the name for "Soldiers in Grease Paint" for it rolled through two hour and forty minutes of fun in professional tempo. Two bands were used, one of them colored, and both bands put out both "sweet and hot." Solo skits, sketches and a finale that brought the crowd to its feet sent the crowd home with a smile. Picking out the high spots was like trying to pick out the best segment of a choice apple pie. There was Private Irving Senter and his antics as master of ceremonies and a number of songs that he put over. There was Private Bill Tindall with some humorous songs and Corporal Walter Peterson with a voice that had the feminine section of the audience ah-hing audibly. Corporal Tom Kinkadee with his impersonations was about the best thing in this line we've seen in years. He impersonated half a dozen well known figures and from Groucho Marx to President Roosevelt the impersonations were uncannily real.

Lots of Laughs

There were plenty of laughs in the show with a half pint sized lad named Sergeant Lloyd Pitts taking top honors in this department. The sergeant whangs a guitar as he sings his ditties and for our money he was good. Another colored lad who pleased was Corporal Jobe Martin who looked to be about five feet eight in height and a big voice. The show ended with a finale dedicated to the late George M. Colahan, all of the musical numbers used being the late showman's work. One instrumental number in the revue was that done in a craftsmanlike manner was a piano duet with Corporal Herbert Mazer and Sergeant Vic Artese doing the hon-

after night, in attack from the air." Admitting that American forces in the Pacific were early assigned the task of "holding" Japan on certain lines until greater strength could be thrown their way, the admiral expressed agreement with the United Nations' leaders decision to treat the European part of the Axis first.

"Time has shown this decision to be correct," he declared.

"United States losses during this 'holding' period have been replaced 'many fold and our strength continues to grow,'" Nimitz said.

The Japanese army is "practically intact," Nimitz said, adding that so far in the island fighting "it is doubtful if the enemy has committed much over 10 per cent of his ground strength."

However, the commander-in-chief denied any pessimism. He said he believes the war will end long before the gloomy prediction of 1943, made by another high navy officer.

2nd NAME ON THE BALLOT JOHN B. SHAW Candidate for COUNTY COMMISSIONER Election Tuesday, Nov. 2, 1943

TO THE VOTERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY:

Many tax payers are disturbed by the fact that the County is using money at the rate of 9 1-3 mills per year. This is a total using of 28 mills during the past 3 years. They realize that the present low County Tax Millage must soon be discarded in favor of Higher Taxation unless the public funds be providently handled, and not wasted. Here are the bald facts:

Total amount of money used by the county in the years 1940, 1941 and 1942 (County purposes only)$1,749,658.17

Cash received by the Treasurer in 1940-41-42, not including a single penny received from Current Tax collections or money received for distribution to other taxing districts:

Cash in banks Jan. 1, 1940, from previous administration$679,468.12
DELINQUENT County and Poor taxes of other years paid during 1940-41-42 351,290.11
Personal Property taxes, being 4 mills on stocks, bonds, mortgages, judgments, etc. 195,428.46
Gasoline taxes from Commonwealth of Pa. 233,211.42
Fees collected by county officers for benefit of the county (Sheriff, Treasurer, Register and Recorder, Prothonotary) 254,762.78
Refunds and Interest 30,289.38
Total Miscellaneous Receipts in 1940-41-42$1,744,450.27

These figures reveal that, excepting the sum of $5,000.00, there was sufficient money available for the full operation of the county without collecting one single dollar of current taxes. These figures are verified and taken from the annual certified report of the county controller; they are a public record and are open to every person who might desire to inspect them as I have done. But comparatively little of Delinquent County and Poor Taxes for prior years remain unpaid. The revenue from this item will be lost within a short while. There is every reason to believe that Gasoline Taxes from the Commonwealth will be received by the County in greatly curtailed amounts due to the restrictions on the sale of gasoline and use of motor vehicles.

Where must the County Commissioners turn to replace these lost revenues? Can the present rate of spending be maintained without raising the County Tax Millage?

Wouldn't it be a good plan to have on the board of County Commissioners one member who will insist upon a wise and frugal handling of the tax payers' money?

TAKING A LOOK AHEAD

MOST OF US BELIEVE, and with reason, that although much hard fighting lies ahead, the end of the war is now dimly in sight. Part of this belief rests on the parallel that is apparent between this contest and World War I. Then the defeat of Germany was preceded by the desertion by her allies. The collapse of the Empire came suddenly and the armistice was upon us before many people realized it.

Now Germany has already been deserted by Italy her most important European ally and is becoming so hemmed in that collapse sooner or later becomes inevitable.

But the parallel may well end here. After the first war the boys came home quickly and we seemed shortly on the way back to normalcy. There is no evidence yet that this will happen again. Industry was not so badly dislocated during the first war and production was not so fully expanded. Furthermore our taxes were negligible compared with the rates today and we had a debt of less than thirty-billion dollars.

Now the conditions are different. War industries are much greater now than then, as is employment in war industries. Furthermore most observers believe that our national debt will be three hundred billions at the end of this global contest—more than ten times what it was in 1919! Therefore the post-war picture is somewhat different and we want to take this into account in postwar planning. Of course there is another difference. Defeat of Germany will not end the war this time as Japan is still to be taken care of and the let-down will not be as complete or immediate as it was after the first war. This may serve to cushion the shock to an extent.

Still we cannot blink at that $300,000,000,000 indebtedness, which will call for interest of more than seven billions a year before we begin to figure on veteran relief, social security or the ordinary Federal expenditures to say nothing of state and local taxes.

Many statesmen are declaring we can never be prosperous again unless the whole world is prosperous along with us. To get international prosperity there will have to be a lot of rehabilitation and reconstruction abroad. How will this be done? Is Uncle Sam to furnish the money to retain world good will? If so the ending of the war will not be a return to normal expenditures by the government and a balancing of the budget may not be possible. The situation calls for sober thought. It will not all be over with the blowing of the armistice whistles.

MAKE THEM PERMANENT

Savings in costs, as well as in gasoline and rubber, by means of mileage conservation programs developed by the states and many municipalities, reflect the inexcusable waste and extravagance that formerly prevailed in the use of publicly owned cars.

A compilation by the State Council of Governments of data obtained from various states by the OPA is most convincing on that score. The council estimates that this year the saving by the states, excluding the municipalities, will total in mileage 225,000,000 miles, in gasoline 17,000,000 gallons, in tires 68,200 and in terms of dollars and cents more than $10,000,000.

These are the results of car pooling to curtail individual assignments, required use of public carriers whenever feasible, maintaining daily records of all car movements, rigid control over issuance of gasoline and oil, and in minor ways. Some states have not been as strict as others, but what has been achieved presents a strong argument for continuance after the war of the mileage administrator system in curbing a return of the old abuses.

Four states—Iowa, New Hampshire, South Dakota and Washington—have started the trend in that direction by putting the system into effect by statute.

WORLD HEALTH TO BE BIG PROBLEM

Feeding of the undernourished peoples in the aftermath of the war is already taking shape as a problem for concerted effort. Its immediacy is great, but only secondary to it are the cure and eradication of diseases certain to be brought home to belligerent nations by returning troops from all parts of the world.

Although there has been little public discussion along this line, it cannot fail to be in the thoughts of leaders in the scientific world. And when the time does come at the close of hostilities to set up an international organization whose prime objective will be to prevent the recurrence of future conflicts, of almost equal importance to it will be the conservation of the health of the peoples of the world.

It seems the very height of paradox for an era that has produced two world wars, the second of which the greatest the world has ever experienced, to be the one in which the care of public health has achieved the stature of a science. As such it is capable of being the instrument by which the physical status of 1,600,000,000 human beings may be measurably enhanced.

So backward are many peoples that this desired end can never be attained on a hit or miss basis. In the new world setup there must be an international organization with far-flung outposts prepared to combat pestilence and wielding a powerful influence to improve the living standards of the human race.

Despite the colossal flop that was the League of Nations, it is a memorable fact that its welfare agencies were active almost to the end, and that the fight it waged on the opium habit alone meant redemption to tens of thousands.

Typhus fever, cause of the greatest number of deaths from disease in all the wars of history, has all but been eliminated among the American forces, there having been but two or three cases in an army of 6,000,000 men. The war on malaria and venereal disease is being won. Scientific discoveries in the field of disease cures and preventives have been enormous in the present conflict.

The postwar world will be a much smaller world, thanks to the great role to be played by airplane travel. A corollary of that, of course, is the danger of importing disease from one quarter of the globe to another, almost before it is recognizable. Here, too, an international health organization could wield a powerful minatory influence, holding up local officials to the most rigid watchfulness.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOW SMART IS YOUR BABY

Parents and relatives are very sure our baby is smart. If you would like to ascertain very roughly whether your baby has developed about as far as the average baby his age, you can do so by means of charts or bulletins. I have prepared for this purpose. They won't give precise measurements. You can't ascertain your child's IQ by using them. But through this device you can do better than a mere guess and derive considerable information about the degree of development of your baby and little child.

As each bulletin applies to a definite age-range, please indicate the exact age of your child. In writing for it at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclose a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Let me give you a few sample statements of achievement.

Fourth to ninth month inclusive: Roll from stomach to back and back to stomach. Clearly reach out for object held near him while on his back. Pull self to sitting position. Turn head when his name is called. Look after dropped object. Drink from cup held by another person. Make vocal sounds when talked to by mother. Recognize familiar persons. Smile.

Nine to fifteen months. Move forward or backward while on stomach. Creep or hitch. Sit alone on floor for at least two minutes. Stand alone for a moment. While holding furniture. At play, pull small object in and out of pail. Pull things to him on string. Use thumb in seizing small objects. Play peek-a-boo, patty-cake. Imitate movement. Feed self. Look at pictures of familiar things. Laugh when others laugh.

Eighteen months to two and one-half years. Run. Jump. Stand on one foot. Kick at an object. Walk backwards. Wash own hands. Turn pages of book or magazine without tearing it. Point to familiar objects in picture as named. Carry out single command as "Close the door." Point to ears, eyes, nose, hair when asked to do so. Give his name when asked. Feed himself with spoon. Listen to nursery rhymes and stories read or told.

Three to four years. Refer to color as "My red cat." Walk upstairs without help. Turn knob and open door. Pound nails with hammer after they are started. Remember where certain things are. Give names to things. Give family name. Give sex. Drink alone from cup or glass. Speak in complete sentences. Use several hundred words. Can say after you as you say each one: (a) The baby is in bed. (b) Daddy will come home soon.

It is apparent that some children may be very smart in most ways may fail to do some of the things listed at the various age levels, because they did not happen to have practice in that direction.

THE CHANGING WORLD

They say things are changing, and that I believe. A much different world than this is being conceived. But for what we call sorrow all ages will grieve. The desire of all hearts is to live unafraid. A place in the sun and a place in the shade. And this will be so when the changes are made.

Men will laugh at a jest and delight in a song. Think pleasure too brief and their duty too long. And still have their notions of right and of wrong.

A maiden will marry some other man's son. She'll run the same risks which all women have run. And do the same tasks which all housewives have done.

So, youngsters, be eager to learn all you can. To share in the work of the new world they plan. A world that will still need what's best in a man.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

What a beautiful picture of future home life the Research Division of Purdue University is painting for us!

You can buy it for anywhere from $1500 to $2000, on the installment plan, of course, and every few years you trade it in just like your automobile.

The walls and partitions are made of gypsum cement board and "the outside walls are almost elastic; they give when one leans against them."

Clothes drawers will be built under the beds and a breakfast car along one wall in the kitchen is an additional space saver.

A furniture, says the report, shouldn't cost more than $200, but to take the place of quality gay colors will be used.

There will be vivid reds, greens and blues. The walls are in light yellow and the floors are waxed to make them shiny.

In each room, I am told, a decorative center of interest has been created. For instance, in the alcove of one "bunkroom," as the bedroom is called, there is an airplane wallpaper, and a trellis of painted flowers brightens the gray wall of the stall shower (there is no tub, that's old-fashioned).

What's the name of that old song we used to sing?

Oh, yes—"There's no place like home."

So now you have the new home, the home of the future.

A few boards, slap some paint on it, put it together in a couple of days, move in and, in a couple of years, knock the darn thing down, and get a new one even crazier than this one.

Of course you'll have to forget about climbing roses and ivy and wisteria.

You won't have time to collect memories or build up a tradition in that kind of a home.

There's room for the "breakfast bar," but not for the "breakfast bar" to come home to after years of struggle and hard work, when you're finally made good.

But who cares? "Pistol Shooting Mama" is the pistol of today; jitters don't want memories, they want to forget last night's part in today's hangover.

We folks who think of home as something to cherish, to take pride in, to be "homestick" for when we are away. We're just a bunch of old codgers.

It's a great age we are living in, isn't it?

LETTERS OF CONDOLENCE

"Please tell me if letters of condolence should be answered and how soon. Also if an engraved card will do for this purpose." R. S. B.

Answer: Letters of condolence should be answered and the answer should be personally written by a member of the bereaved family or by someone appointed to this detail, such as an intimate friend.

Engraved acknowledgment cards for this purpose are in very bad taste. So impersonal a response to express sympathy would suggest indifference. Your reply may be written on your personal visiting cards, but written by hand they must be.

Those of your friends who were thoughtful enough to have expressed their kindness in a letter surely deserve the courtesy of a personal reply.

They will not look for immediate acknowledgment of their expressions of sympathy. They will be satisfied to wait until it is convenient for you or your representative to send these acknowledgments. But they will look for them, so don't neglect this duty—this expected courtesy.

To those who send messages of condolence, letters should be written for this purpose. Don't be lazy and depend upon your stationer to suggest a message.

Question: I am to be best man at a wedding. Please tell me if I should give the groom a bachelor dinner. If so, when should the affair take place? C. Z.

Answer: The bachelor dinner is never given by the best man. The bridegroom himself should give this function—his last fling before becoming a benedict.

The affair should take place at the bridegroom's home, at a club or in a restaurant a night or two before the wedding. It is purely a stag party and the guests should include the best man, the ushers and any other of his friends whom he may care to invite. Many bridegrooms take this opportunity to present their gifts to the best man and the ushers.

Russians Believe They Can Kayo Nazis Soon Predict Knockout Of Germany By Midsummer Tire Situation, OPA's Headache Is Serious

By HELEN ESSARY Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The Soviet Union is reliably reported supremely confident of knocking out the German military machine in the east by midsummer even if the United States and Great Britain do not open the second front across the channel by then.

Responsible sources in Washington believe that Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov will say as much to Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden during the Moscow conference.

However, Molotov is expected to press for a second front as a means of shortening the war and postwar political discussions will be regarded by the Russians as extremely secondary to winning the war.

The best tipoff on how serious the tire situation has become was given when the office of rubber director relinquished control over inventories of passenger car tires and tubes to the OPA.

The action was unheralded, but its meaning did not escape informed observers. ORD and OPA previously waged a long fight on this issue. Lately inventories have dropped so low that ORD sensed a crisis ahead and relinquished control. One of the reasons for the shift is explained by ORD's feeling that OPA has contributed to the tight situation in tires by rationing out too many, instead of getting tough and insisting on retreads and recaps.

Prime Minister Churchill, who prides himself on being half English and half American—his mother was American—has adopted another rollicking United States custom. During his recent visit, the British leader spent a good part of his few recreational hours at the good old American game of dropping dimes in a jukebox and dancing with Mrs. Churchill, daughter Mary and a few local girls. He was introduced to the jukebox in a Maryland mountain village.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R., Michigan) is reckoned by many habitues of the Senate as its best language-maker. In newspaperman's language he writes and talks in headlines.

However, reporters have been unhappy over the fact that he has failed to provide copies of his speeches to the press and radio galleries.

Vandenberg was editor and publisher of the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Herald before he entered the Senate. Vandenberg literally writes his speeches himself on a typewriter near his desk in the Senate office building. He uses the "hunt and peck" system.

It sounds like a gag—but OPA swears it's true. The agency is troubled by a shortage of lawyers. Under criticism from Congress, the OPA recently cut its staff of lawyers from 2,400 to about 1,800. Now there is a shortage for certain specific jobs.

Much has been written about the prodigious production of American war industries. There has been much less emphasis, however, on the remarkable performance of the American farmer in this war. Truly the farmer has hung up some production records that are amazing.

Following are the estimated percentage increases in output this year as compared with the five-year average between 1935-39: Pork 78; beef and veal 27; lamb and mutton 13; chickens 63; turkeys 37; eggs 50; milk 14; fats and oils 29; wheat 16; rice 38; corn 32; beans 56; potatoes 32; and sweet potatoes 10.

Generally, the production increases have been offset by demands, but without them a food crisis would have developed long ago.

Consumer rationing of milk is not yet beyond the realm of possibility, although federal experts hope they won't tackle this complicated job. The agriculture department has warned that unless dairy men produce more milk next year, they may decline sharply next year.

Officials hope the present controlled sales may make rationing unnecessary. However, consumer rationing plans already have been worked out.

WHAT THIS ALL adds up to is that, exactly as in 1940, the full Artistic Weight is being exerted to insure another "draft." Moreover, it again is being expected by Mr. Roosevelt's most intimate friends and assistants and again is exerted with his full knowledge, consent and support. To believe anything else is to disregard the obvious facts. Mr. White admits that Mr. Roosevelt is behaving in every way exactly like a man after a fourth term. Still he thinks he may not run. Certainly, there are two contingencies which would stop him from running. One, as Mr. White suggests, is if his doctors should forbid it; the other is if he became convinced he could not be elected. As to the first, the testimony is that he is in excellent health. As to the second, it is very difficult to convince as self-confident a man as Mr. Roosevelt that he can be defeated.

NEVERTHELESS, observers generally agree that he is not as strong as he was four years ago. Certainly he has lost a large part of the farm vote, and in labor circles, while still almost solidly supported (Continued On Page Five)

OYSTERS

Oysters are desirable for their flavor, their minerals and their vitamins. They have a large amount of iron and perhaps more copper than any other kind of food.

They provide a lot of vitamins. Usually oysters are cooked with something else to add to their food value.

When they are fried they are rolled in egg and cracker crumbs before they are put in the hot fat. An oyster stew makes use of milk and butter to add nutriment.

Escalloped oysters have bread and other things mixed in which make a very valuable dish.

By eating oysters and other foods which supply vitamins and minerals, a person does not need pills and capsules.

Taking pills seems to be the great American sport. It is pretty expensive but seems to be popular.

Have you noticed it too? It seems that the need for non-essential driving has increased at least 18% since the nation's gas rationing has again been decreased.

Another disadvantage of age is that you've seen the great make so many dumb mistakes, they all seem pathetic blunders.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT By The Baltimore Sun

Fourth-Term Prospects

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—

IT IS interesting that as able, experienced and acute a political observer as Mr. William Allen White, whose recovery from his recent operation rejects his thousands of friends, should believe that Mr. Roosevelt may not run for the fourth term. Not many will agree with Mr. White in this view, but that does not prove him wrong nor keep his argument from having weight.

IT IS HIS belief that there are three reasons why Mr. Roosevelt, knowing now that he will not be a candidate, will keep silent on the subject until just before convention:

1. That he would lose his influence in national and international affairs.

2. That he would lose control of Congress and, thus, the country, but without leadership at a critical time.

3. That he wants to control the 1944 convention, write the platform and name the candidate. This, of course, makes sense and Mr. White may be entirely right.

HOWEVER, it will be recalled that these were precisely the contentions made concerning his third-term candidacy. There were then some who, up to the very day of his nomination in 1940, felt that Mr. Roosevelt did not want and would not take the nomination.

Then they discovered he had wanted it all the time and that the whole "draft" play had been arranged not only with his acquiescence but with his very competent advice. Exactly the same procedure is being followed this time—with pretty much the same people in charge. There is Mr. Harry Hopkins, the President's closest personal friend, who is again the master strategist; and there is Mr. David Niles, one of the $10,000-a-year White House aides, who serves as Mr. Hopkins' leg man and is up to his eyes in the fourth-term politics. Then there are the labor bosses who with White House affiliation are passing resolutions and putting over indorsements—Frank Hague of New Jersey, Eddie Flynn of New York, Michael Kennedy of Tammany, and Eddie Kelly, of Chicago—all fed fat with Federal patronage, stuffed with Presidential favors.

THIS IS THE identical third-term lineup, directed by the same managers and all set for the same objective. And, finally, there is Mrs. Roosevelt. It may do this lady an injustice, but the charge has been made that her recent Red Cross trip to New Zealand and Australia was in effect, a political tour and that actually she has been campaigning at home and abroad for a good many weeks. Many letters along this line have come to the Red Cross from all parts of the country. And certainly some of her activities since her return have been centered upon the groups upon which her husband's fourth-term strength largely depends. Among other large letters is the article she wrote for a recent issue of the Negro Digest in Chicago and her forthright talk to the CIO woman's auxiliaries which meet very shortly in Philadelphia. All of this may be just routine for Mrs. Roosevelt and she may be innocent of all thought of politics. But the anti-fourth-term forces at least regard it as extremely effective politics and consider her an extremely effective politician.

WHAT THIS ALL adds up to is that, exactly as in 1940, the full Artistic Weight is being exerted to insure another "draft." Moreover, it again is being expected by Mr. Roosevelt's most intimate friends and assistants and again is exerted with his full knowledge, consent and support. Warns Germans Will Loot Rome

Secretary Knox Says Rome
Will Be Pillaged In Same Manner As Naples

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—(INS)—A warning that the retreating Germans will loot and pillage Rome in the same manner they wrecked Naples was sounded today by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox. "They are still a bunch of Huns," Knox declared in a Navy Day address in Philadelphia. The navy secretary recently returned from a visit to the European theater of war, where he saw the actual wreckage left by the Nazis at Naples.

Knox urged Americans not to mingle the nation's internal politics with its external relations. "It is vital to the war effort," he declared, "that questions which concern our relations with other nations, especially our allies, be kept out of political campaign discussions."

Sea Power Greatest
In a review of the war's progress, Knox asserted that "our battle line at sea has grown to... the greatest and most powerful navy in the world."

"In the battle of the Atlantic," he said, "the German U-boat no longer dominates the sea lanes."

Knox gave a "minimum" forecast of the war's end in an interview with reporters. The end of the war in Europe will come next year at the earliest, he predicted.

Neither the German nor the Jap will be quickly or easily vanquished," he warned. "The sternest kind of fighting lies ahead."

Knox declared the nation will exceed its naval construction objectives for 1943.

Another Laxative

Most constipated people might be as regular as clock-work if they would only... take more exercise—watch their diet—and get up mornings an hour or so earlier to give bowels time to act. But who can or wants to do all this?

So—the next best thing is to keep the bowels working as regularly and comfortably as we can—and that's where good old Espatol comes in. Why?

Because you may take Espatol at night and expect results in the morning when you get up without waiting around—because they do not move the bowels so violently as to leave you feeling weak and wretched.

AND because they help give the grand, comfortable, satisfying type of movement that makes the spirits soar—and what more, constipated person could ask for more! Get Espatol at your drugist today and take as directed. 25c.

Bible Teachings on Abstinence

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Oct. 31 is Leviticus 10:1, 2; 8-11; Proverbs 31:4, 5; Luke 1:13-16. The Golden Text being Judges 13:4. "Beware, I pray thee, and drink no wine nor strong drink.")

The first incident in our lesson on Bible teachings on abstinence we will remember from a previous lesson earlier in the year.

It is recorded in Leviticus and takes us back to the Hebrews' adventures in the wilderness before they arrived at the promised land. Aaron and two of his sons, Nadab and Abihu, priests, were in the tabernacle. A fire had come out from before the Lord and consumed the sacrifice upon the altar.

For some unknown reason these two sons of Aaron's each took a censor, put fire therein, and incense thereon, and offered this strange fire before the Lord, which He commanded them not. The wrath of the Lord was kindled and fire came and devoured them, and they died before the Lord.

Shortly after this terrible happening, the Lord told Aaron, "Do not drink wine nor strong drink thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die." Some commentators think Nadab and Abihu may have been drunk when they offered this strange fire to the Lord in this inexplicable way. No minister or priest should indulge in strong liquors. How can they preach the Word of God and set an example to those who listen to them if they are self-indulgent?

The true minister of God should be a spiritual being, as nearly the counterpart of his Master as it is possible for a human being to be.

Not For Kings to Drink
In the 31st Proverb we read: "It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes strong drink: Lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted."

Strong drink befuddles the mind making it impossible for a person to have a clear, unbiased judgment. A clear brain is necessary for any one who must pass judgment and mete out justice. The oppressed might not be able to get relief if the king or other judge was not in his right mind or muddled from strong drink.

This same matter of abstinence from strong drink is brought to our attention in St. Luke's account of the Angel Gabriel's announcement to the priest, Zacharias, of the miracle of the coming birth of a son to him and his wife, Elisabeth, who were past the age when they normally would have a child.

"But the angel said unto him (Zacharias), Fear not, Zacharias; for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John."

"And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth."

"For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb."

Temperance
"Beware, I pray thee, and drink no wine nor strong drink."—Judges 13:4.

be the forerunner of Jesus, and to proclaim His birth. You remember, as a man, he lived very simply in the wilderness, eating locusts and wild honey. It is possible that Zacharias did not pray for this miracle to happen to him and Elisabeth, but that, as a priest, he was concerned for the redemption of his people, and his petition was a plea for a leader. It was answered in a way that must have made him wonder and be very, very thankful.

This son was to be filled—not with intoxicants, but from his birth he was to be filled with the Holy Spirit, so that he might exceed all other prophets. Even the Pharisees did not dare say that John the Baptist was not a prophet, and Herod did not dare to put him to death until he was driven to it by his oath to his stepdaughter, Salome.

A well-known physiologist says that alcohol is a narcotic. It gives a temporary feeling of relief from worry; "abolishes mental tension, disguises difficulties, relieves a feeling of inferiority," etc., but it confuses the mind and makes an ordinarily good automobile driver imagine himself unaffected when he might be a potential murderer because it takes him longer to react to emergencies and to operate the steering gear, brake or accelerator of his car. It affects memory and learning. It does not pay to play with fire or fire-water, this learned man states. To forget worries, he advises people to indulge in sports or hobbies, and keep healthy in mind and body.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

by the CIO, his popularity in the older and more conservative AFL has diminished. It is also held that against either Mr. Wilkie or Governor Dewey, the Negro vote in the pivotal States would not be cast for him with anything like the solidity of 1936 and 1940. When to these things are added the inevitable resentments which accumulate through a too long tenure of office, there is enough to cause some apprehension among the more clear-headed of the fourth-term managers.

UP TO A short while ago the palace politicians were sure that all these liabilities would be offset by the power of the "Stand by the Commander in Chief" appeal, made with the war still in a critical stage. Now they are not so sure. For one thing, if in another year, as everybody hopes and expects, the Germans will have been crushed, that appeal will have been lost much of its force. For another, if the popular reaction is the same this time as it was in the first election after the close of the last war, instead of voting to continue the victorious Administration in power, the people will vote it out. Considering these things, the feeling grows that the "Commander in Chief" asset, may not be enough. It may have to be supplemented by something else. The hope, of course, is that the Republicans will—as they easily may—make fools of themselves. In that event, the fourth-term prospects would brighten greatly.

GERMAN AUTHORITIES RECKON WITH ARMISTICE

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The latest issue of the clandestine French newspaper "Liberation" received in London today indicates that German authorities reckon with the possibility of a sudden armistice.

Leave papers born by Nazi troops in France, said the newspaper, contain a clause stating that "in case of an armistice rejoin the nearest garrison."

This measure, it was said, was taken to prevent the chaos which would result from every soldier trying to reach Germany independently.

If they start every remark with profanity and use dirty words as pet names, they are being "sophisticated."

LONERGAN STILL BEING GRILLED

R.C.A.F. Air Cadet Maintains Innocence Of Knowledge
Of Wife's Death Cause

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Relays of detectives and Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet resume their intensive questioning of RCAF Air Cadet Wayne Lonergan today in an effort to solve the slaying of his wife, Mrs. Patricia Burton Lonergan.

The lanky airman, who came to New York from Toronto voluntarily "to help solve Pat's murder," remained steadfast in his claim that at the time the young heiress was killed, he was "befriending" a soldier in a friend's apartment.

Throughout the night he was subjected to a barrage of questions and when a temporary recess was taken, Grumet, haggard and badly in need of sleep, said:

"He's a cold proposition. He's still self-possessed. He hasn't changed his story."

Asked if there was any question of Lonergan's sanity, the prosecutor said:

"He's certainly sane. But there's no question he may be a psychopathic personality."

The district attorney's office earlier had announced that Lonergan's selective service board twice had rejected the former lieftenant as 4-F on moral grounds.

Plan Services Of Italian Forces In Drive On Nazis

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Oct. 28.—Plans for front-line participation by an Italian army of liberation commanded by Prince Umberto were speeded today by two conferences between the Prince and Lieut.-General Mark W. Clark.

The first conference between the heir-apparent to the Italian throne and the commander of the American-British Fifth Army was held at Gen. Clark's headquarters approximately one week ago and yielded an agreement over the possibility of translating Marshal Badoglio's declaration of war into active combat by Italian army units.

During one of the last visits Gen. Clark made to the battle line he was asked whether he expected Italian units "in the line" before long. He replied:

"There is a question of re-equipment and right now we have our own problems along that line, but they will certainly be fighting alongside us much sooner than one might expect."

Machine Gunners
Greet Air Borne
German Forces

CAIRO, Oct. 28.—(INS)—German air-borne reinforcements were peppered with machine-gun fire as they alighted from a Junkers 52 transport plane in the course of a heavy raid by allied bombers and fighters on the Antimachia airfield on the Dodecanese island of Kos.

The middle east high command announced today.

The bombers destroyed grounded German aircraft and started two large fires, the communique said.

The harbor at Porto Malesana on Stampalia was bombed and burst was observed on a jetty.

Direct hits were scored in an attack on barrack buildings on Caydos island.

A formation of Junkers 88s about to attack allied shipping was driven off by allied fighters before the enemy craft were able to drop their bombs. A number of the Nazi craft were damaged.

In the Castellorosso area near the Turkish coast a German aircraft was destroyed.

None of the allied craft were lost in the operations.

Gasoline Made From Coal Will Be Tested Friday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Gasoline made from coal will be used for the first time in the United States in an airplane tomorrow in a flight from Morgantown, W. Va., to Washington, D. C.

A single motored Fairchild plane will take off from the West Virginia city at 2 p. m. and aboard the ship will be Senator Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Rep. Jennings Randolph of West Virginia.

Maj. Arthur C. Hyder, wing commander of the Maryland and District of Columbia Civil Air Patrol, will pilot the ship. Thirty-five gallons of the coal-processed gasoline will be provided by the U. S. Bureau of Mines experimental station at Pittsburgh. Coal-made gasoline has been used to drive automobiles in experimental tests in the United States, but this will be the initial test of its power to propel through the air.

O'Mahoney and Randolph are chairmen of Senate and House committees which have been investigating the possibility of successful and productive manufacture of gasoline from coal, shale and other minerals. They have faith in this possibility, and Rep. Randolph said that "inasmuch as I started this thing I want to be in on the first flight."

Guards Prevent Prison Escape

GRATERSFORD, Pa., Oct. 28.—(INS)—The alertness of two guards prevented an attempted escape of two convicts today from the eastern penitentiary at Gratersford.

Prison officials identified the would-be fugitives as Mike Cipri, 32, of Baltimore, and Harry John Hovey, 27, of Collingswood, N. J.

The men kicked out the screening of their outside cells, crawled thru the ventilator, and dropped to the prison yard. They were apprehended by Clarence Wolf and Earl Moser, guards, just as they reached the prison's 40-foot wall. In their possession at the time of their capture was a 40-foot rope fashioned from bed sheets.

Cipri had just completed a 15-year sentence from Lackawanna county courts on charges of robbery, and was beginning a year and a half sentence on charges of assault and battery. A federal deportation warrant is also out against him, which will result in his deportation to Russia as an alien at the expiration of his sentence.

Hovey is serving a 10-year sentence on charges of assault and battery with attempt to kill and robbery.

AIRCRAFT WORKERS ON WEST COAST DEFERRED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes today announced deferment from the draft of all necessary aircraft workers in the Pacific Coast area.

Byrnes disclosed that selective service will defer "all necessary workers" in airplane plants in that area including men employed by sub-contractors.

He called upon workers in those plants to "settle down, stay on the job and produce to the limit."

Window Soaping Completely Halted

BRAIDWOOD, Ill., Oct. 28.—(INS)—With halloween just around the corner, authorities reported today that not a single window in Braidwood had been soaped.

Possibly a large sign which M. J. Donna, a community civic leader posted in his office window is the explanation for the phenomenon. It is headed "Message to Children" and says:

"This is halloween, the season of window soaping. Please soap all these windows and all the windows in Braidwood because the more soap, wax and paraffin you use in soaping windows, the less of these materials there will be for making ammunition and power for the U. S. forces and the harder it will be for the U. S. to win the war.

"So, the more soap, wax and paraffin you waste in soaping the greater friends you will be of ours.

HUNT FOR KILLER OF NURSE CADET

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Police today pushed their search for the "crazed" killer of Lucille Elizabeth Lawrence, pretty, 19-year-old Army nurse cadet, after a warning that the murder was the work of a maniac who might strike again if left at large.

Confronted with a crime of violence similar in some respects to the Lonerang murder, police were told by Medical Examiner Dr. Howard P. Carpenter:

"The authorities had better get the murderer before they find more bodies. This was the work of a crazy person."

The battered, partly clad body of Miss Lawrence was found in a vacant lot within one hundred feet of Vassar hospital. Two rocks, which were picked up near the body and had evidently been used to "pulverize her skull" were held by police as murder weapons. An autopsy was ordered to determine whether she had been criminally attacked.

The slain Army nurse was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry

P. Lawrence, of Lisbon, N. Y. Although her pocketbook had been emptied and her pockets turned out, Dutchess County District Attorney John R. Schartz said robbery had been established as an "apparent but not satisfactory" motive for the killing.

Possible New German Defense Line Discussed

Editors' note:—The present fighting on the Italian peninsula and the possible new German defense line is discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might."

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS).—There seems to be no doubt but that Nazi forces confronting the Allied 5th and 8th armies in Italy, are falling back south and east of Rome to the strongest natural defenses, mountains and rivers, they have as yet occupied. It has even been suggested from Axis sources that the Germans might stage a serious counter-attack from that new line.

Apparently, the Nazi west flank will be anchored on Mount Massico at the sea at about the town of Mondragore. The German line would then run almost due north following joining continuous mountains to Venafro. It would reach the Adriatic at about Ortona, or possibly at Pescara which is on the river of the same name. On the west side, those mountains overlook the plains to the north of Naples. The high peaks flank at least one major north and south highway as well as one that runs northward to Rome. On the Adriatic side, the mountains come down very close to the sea and are backed up by the Pescara river.

Nature has indeed provided strong natural fortifications and it is certain that the Nazis will exploit their use to delay the Allied advance. However, any counterattack the Axis may make will only be in the nature of defense, that is, "the best defense is offense."

The rivers on the Italian peninsula have great swiftness of current. Their degree of drop from the mountains to the sea is very precipitous. Therefore, the speed of flow cuts perpendicular banks, miniature grand canyons, which create difficult hazards for troops to cross.

However, the equipment of the battalion of engineers attached to a combat division for negotiating water hazards is most interesting. That enumerated herein is as of the last published table of organizations—1939. Although it has undoubtedly been changed in accordance with the necessities of war, that equipment probably remains about the same.

Each engineer battalion has 20 assault boats which are for use in the bridging of streams and rivers. It has two portable 30-ton ferries; two 8 horsepower outboard motors; six 32 horsepower outboard motors; and two trailer boats.

The engineer train carries with it one heavy pontoon bridge which has a span of 250 feet, one portable bridge, not steel, and one very large portable steel trestle bridge having a 350-foot span. It may thus be seen that the engineer battalion with normal equipment is well prepared to replace destroyed bridges or cross any usual stream, stream, or river.

But returning to the new German defense line. Actually, it makes no difference how strong it may be. The Nazis on the peninsula are in an untenable position because of Allied superiority in the air and control of the sea on both the east and west coasts of the Italian leg. The Germans can hold any defense line for only the length of time that it takes Allied assault troops to flank that line. Naturally, in strong mountainous positions the Allied flanking operation will take much longer. Whenever General Eisenhower sees fit he can order amphibious operations behind the German line on either flank.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with aching and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause aching backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Further Driving Restrictions Are Feared In View

President's Apparent Disfavor Of Extension Of Synthetic Rubber Program Worries

By TONY ZECCA
(N. E. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Eastern motorists officials were wary today that President Roosevelt's apparent disfavor of extension of the synthetic rubber program preludes even greater driving restrictions than were imposed before the pleasure ban was lifted.

Vice Chairman R. B. Maxwell of the Eastern Petroleum Consumers' Council, embodying 16 eastern seaboard states, said the group will meet in New York November 4 to draft a program for presentation to congressmen in an effort to ease driving limitations and stave off a breakdown of overtaxed public transportation.

He pointed out that while the gasoline outlook remains dreary, there are indications that driving will be crippled by further limitations on the part of the east-synthetic rubber manufacturers will not step up their production because the president has favored a return to crude rubber.

Maxwell declared that "the recent developments coupled with present acute shortages in tires and automobiles confirm more than ever the possibility that the east-synthetic rubber manufacturers will not step up their production because the president has favored a return to crude rubber."

Further restrictions on tires are even worse than any on gasoline," he stated, "because you can't bootleg a tire like gasoline and to the frustration of social numbers."

Maxwell asserted that it was "getting to the place again where there is a limit to the restrictions that can be put on the 'A' and 'B' book holders; and the further imposition on overtaxed public transportation systems will mean a sure breakdown with the resultant detriment to war production."

More tire restrictions, he predicted, would mean that the "A" and "B" book motorist would not be able to secure any tires other than rationed rumps. They may now obtain rumps, which are unguaranteed for mileage, or grade three tires which are good for a maximum of 5000 miles at low speed.

Production Records Of Ayrshire Herd

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 28.—Ayrshires in the Pennsylvania State college herd can be proud of their high production records, according to A. A. Borland, head of the dairy husbandry department.

For the year 1942-43 the Ayrshire herd averaged 10,365 pounds of milk and 436 pounds of fat. Dairy Herd Improvement association records show an increase of over 3,000 pounds in average milk yields and of 136 pounds in fat per cow since 1921.

The herd was started in 1912 with five heifers and a bull calf. Since then a constructive breeding program has resulted in steady increase in milk and fat production.

P. D. Jones, herdsman since 1916, explained that the increase has been achieved through (1) culling on the basis of individual records of production, (2) feeding a balanced ration with the amount of grain weighed out proportionally to each cow in proportion to her milk yield, (3) breeding with the best bulls obtainable, proved if possible, and (4) keeping the herd healthy. It has been accredited as free from tuberculosis since 1919 and from Bang's disease since 1931.

Hill Discusses County Government

Taxation And Assessment Are Subject Of Discourse Before Kiwanis Club

County Controller Frank W. Hill, Republican nominee for county treasurer, spoke to members of the New Castle Kiwanis club at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton Wednesday, his subject being, "County Government".

Mr. Hill discussed taxation in particular, and showed the process that is gone through to get the taxpayers' dollar, from the assessments were not equitable, the city and county having different assessment values on property, and that Ellwood City again had different assessments for borough and school taxes.

Many questions were asked by the club members.

A. S. Keith Brooks, who is attending Duke University, was a special guest of the club, accompanying his father, Sam Lewis.

Members of the committee in charge of ladies night, which will be observed on November 17, had a meeting afterwards to discuss plans for this impending event.

Unique Weather Prophet Invented

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 28.—A "weather clock" that records the time and kind of faint precipitation is in use at the Pennsylvania State college meteorology laboratory.

Only one of its type in the world, the recorder was invented by Dr. Hans Neuberger, who is in charge of the laboratory, to keep track of extremely faint snow, rain, or hail and to register, too, the hour at which it fell.

As a result, weather men for the first time will be relieved of a great nuisance—trying to keep track of slight imperceptible precipitation and the hour at which it falls, a task of great importance in predicting floods.

The apparatus, known as a pluviograph (time-recording rain gauge) consists of a phonograph turntable which moves every hour to expose one of 24 smoked-glass plates, one for each hour of the day. The device is covered except for an exposed slot in the top through which any precipitation might fall.

The gauge is so sensitive that a few snowflakes or raindrops will leave clear "footprints" by disturbing smoke particles on the glass slides. Replacing an earlier instrument in which Dr. Neuberger used a strip of blackened paper, the weather clock is more convenient and more accurate, the geophysicist believes.

Joseph Auslander, in the Post, uses eight words that tell the story of the Nazis: "An everlasting stench in the nostrils of time."

SHORTAGE OF PENNIES CAUSED BY PIGGY BANKS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The jingly piggy bank went out of style today and was doomed to collect dust on the closet shelf.

There is a weekly shortage of 2,000,000 pennies in the fourth Federal Reserve district alone, president of the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland, Matthew J. Fleming, said in urging membership in the "Ten Penny club".

If each man woman and child would permit himself to hold not more than 10 pennies at any one time, millions of pennies would flow back into trade channels, Fleming said.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Officials at the Marine hospital in

A construction project of the five new Marine hospitals, including Pittsburgh's, is listed in a bill offered to congress.

Glee Club Reunion To Be Held Saturday

Members of the Apollo club, a male glee club that flourished here before and after the first World War, will hold their annual reunion dinner Saturday night, Oct. 30, in the clubhouse of the Sylvan Heights golf course.

President G. Wilfred Thomas today said that an unusually large number of members living outside the city will be present and an interesting program has been prepared.

Soloists will include William Wheldon, William D. Williams, Miss Lorraine Day, of Canton, O., and Miss Ruth Lenhart, of Akron, O. Glee singing will take up a large part of the program.

SHORTAGE OF PENNIES CAUSED BY PIGGY BANKS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The jingly piggy bank went out of style today and was doomed to collect dust on the closet shelf.

There is a weekly shortage of 2,000,000 pennies in the fourth Federal Reserve district alone, president of the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland, Matthew J. Fleming, said in urging membership in the "Ten Penny club".

If each man woman and child would permit himself to hold not more than 10 pennies at any one time, millions of pennies would flow back into trade channels, Fleming said.

SEE GREAT NEED FOR NEW MARINE HOSPITAL

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Officials at the Marine hospital in Pittsburgh held hopes today that congress would consider favorably the proposed construction of a new building, doubling the capacity of the present institution.

Dr. Robert Lich, in charge of surgery at the existing hospital, expressed the opinion that a new building is badly needed to replace the old one, built about 1917, with a rated capacity of 75 bed patients.

A construction project of the five new Marine hospitals, including Pittsburgh's, is listed in a bill offered to congress.

Report Farmers Reducing Debt

Agricultural Department
Official Says Mortgages
Are Being Cut Down

BILLION DOLLARS
PAID SINCE 1939

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—An agricultural department official revealed today that the nation's farmers, flush with their greatest income in history, have slashed off their mortgage debts by about one billion dollars since 1939.

This is an "about face" compared with World War I, the official said, when instead of declining, the farm mortgage debt jumped from four billion, seven hundred million dollars in 1914 to seven billion, one hundred million in 1919.

Paring Down Debt
But the 1943 farmers, who will have earned a record net income of about 12½ billion dollars by the end of this year, are paring their mortgages down from seven billion dollars in 1939 to about six billion in 1943.

"One of the main reasons for this fact," the official pointed out, "is that farmers got their fingers burned in the collapse of land prices that followed the first war—and they are afraid to buy more land now."

"Also, the machinery situation has been tight and farmers haven't been able to spend money on new tractors, threshing machines and the like. Instead, they pay off their mortgages."

The official said further that educational activity on the part of the government has tended to help the farmer get on a sound financial basis. President Roosevelt's plea to agriculture for mortgage payments to help avoid inflation also was a powerful factor, he added.

Rockefeller Sale Is Called Off

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS)—

The proposed sale of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., of a million shares of Standard Oil and Sinclair stock previously postponed, has been definitely called off, the New York banking firm of Dillon, Read & Co. announced today.

A nationwide group of investment bankers formed to sell the stock was simultaneously dissolved, the announcement said.

No reason was given for abandonment of the sale, but it was known that the SEC blocked the open sale, insisting on registration of the stock, which would have involved considerable expense and delay.

There was no comment from Rockefeller's office.

Rockefeller previously announced that he was selling the stock to provide cash for investment in War

Bonds as a means of further aiding the war effort.

The stock included 200,000 shares of Standard Oil of N. J., 500,000 shares of Socony Vacuum Oil Co., 100,000 of Standard Oil of California, 50,000 of Standard Oil of Indiana, and 150,000 of Sinclair Oil Corp.

Military leaders, constantly striving for improvement, drop anything that doesn't work right. You see, they aren't politicians.

AROUND CITY HALL

It is regretted arrangements for the resurfacing of Highland avenue, East Washington street and Long avenue, could not have been completed months ago. If such had been possible the projects now would be completed. As it is the contractor is working in East Washington street, headed toward Butler avenue. If bad weather comes and he feels that it might injure the work he may stop. It is hoped by all concerned that resurfacing will fall will not end there. State water power and resource board has approved the new channel lines of the Shenango river. One of the toughest jobs to fill in city hall—probably the hardest, is that of purchasing agent and head of the department of grounds and buildings. Joe Alexander heads the department. He must know the law concerning priorities, fight to get what he wants but the first job and one of the most severe is to a certain where it can be bought. Years ago that berth was not hard one to fill. Nowadays it is really tough. People who desire to take advantage of the 20 percent abatement act should visit the office of City Solicitor R. M. White where their payments can be made this month.

The old Roman senator was designed to age because it "cooled his fires" and thus solved many problems, but you can say that for death.

Flank Attack May Be Planned

Nazi Propaganda Agencies
Forecast Flank Attack
On Lines In Italy

By J. C. OESTREICHER
International News Service
Foreign Editor

A new Allied landing on the west coast of Italy to flank the strong German line running through the mountains from Mondragone to Vasto was predicted by Nazi propaganda agencies today and there was every reason to believe the forecast may be accurate.

While the heaviest fighting of the war raged on the Russian front, where Nazi troops fell back in the Southern Ukraine in wild disorder, world attention swung back to Italy in the belief some major Allied move is in the offing.

The exact number of men being utilized by Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery in the present Italian campaign is a military secret. But there is reason to believe a vast reservoir of men and material still remains in North Africa and Sicily. The famed United States Seventh Army has yet to put in an appearance in the present campaign. A new landing behind the German lines would appear to be a logical undertaking if it can be carried out at a reasonable cost.

It is a military axiom that frontal attack is the most expensive and hazardous of all. The Japanese campaign in Malaya which resulted in capture of Singapore showed what can be achieved by "leap frog" landings along an enemy-held coast. The same tactics were used by the Allies in the early stages of the Italian conflict.

Postwar Military Alliances Wrong Declares Hoover

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Former President Herbert Hoover was on record today as declaring that postwar military alliances must be avoided if peace is to be preserved.

Hoover and Hugh Gibson, former U. S. ambassador to Belgium, declared in a jointly signed article in Collier's that the best alternative to "the whole reactionary spirit of military alliances" after the war would be "continuous authorized collaboration" among the United Nations.

The article recommends selection of a group of nations to act as trustees of the peace in an immediate postwar transitional period pending settlement of major problems.

Hoover and Gibson specifically warned that an Anglo-American alliance would present "a very particular danger," since it might be mistakenly interpreted as champion of an English-speaking "master race."

The first producing oil well in the United States began on August 28, 1859, at Titusville, Pa., at a depth of 69 feet. It produced about 400 gallons of oil a day.

LIVESTOCK MARKET PLANS PRESENTED

Lawrence County Farmers And Business Men Hear Of Cooperative Project

Lawrence county farmers and business men got first hand information upon the operation of cooperative livestock markets Wednesday night when C. E. Noyes, secretary of the Williamsport Community Trade Association, addressed a dinner meeting in The Castleton hotel called by the Greater New Castle Association. Roger Jewett executive vice president, presided.

With a number of interested persons in Lycoming county, Mr. Noyes established the Penn Central Livestock Market in Williamsport several years ago. The market is a cooperative affair with stock being held by farmers, cattle growers and business men, with no one person having any unusual amount of stock.

Mr. Noyes pointed out that the Penn Central venture had been remarkably successful and proved several things. It provides a ready convenient market for cattle growers and obviates any undue transportation costs. As a business venture it has carried itself and has returned dividends upon money invested.

Mr. Noyes answered a number of questions concerning the operation of the livestock market and gave the guests a complete picture of the background of the idea, the steps taken to approach it and the methods used to establish it. It is now firmly established and is a going concern. With Mr. Noyes was Frank Mantz, secretary of the Hazleton Chamber of Commerce.

As a preliminary step here, a committee was appointed to investigate the idea further and report back upon what possibilities exist. On the committee are the following: Representing the farmers, W. Sharp Fullerton, J. Audley Boak, R. P. Peebles, L. E. Ferree and Pomona Grange Master W. H. McCullough. Representing the Greater New Castle Association, J. P. Rentz, Joseph R. Rick, J. Lepore Matthews, John Riley, Jr., and Walter Gross.

Defense Attorneys In Nassau Case Suffer Setback

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NASSAU, Oct. 28.—Defense attorneys defended Count Alfred De Marigny on charge of slaying his wealthy father-in-law, Sir Harry Oakes, lost an important round of their battle today when a transferred fingerprint said to be the accused's, was admitted in evidence.

Sir Oscar Daly, red-robed judge presiding over the trial, ruled in favor of the crown, whose lawyers contended that the print must be allowed to be presented in evidence. Defense attorneys had contested bitterly, seeking to establish that the print, which the prosecution contended was found on a bedspread in the murder room, may have been a forgery, executed while being transferred from the screen itself. The trial got under way this morning after it was feared that the illness of three jurors would force a postponement. All 12 members of the all-male jury, however, were in their places when court opened.

Arguments concerning the admissibility of the alleged fingerprint of the count took up much of yesterday's session. The print allegedly was discovered soon after the murder of Sir Harry, De Marigny's father-in-law, in the room in which the American-born god magnate was bludgeoned and burned to death.

Conduct In U. S. Prisoner Of War Camp Is Probed

TRINIDAD, Colo., Oct. 28.—(INS)—FBI agents expressed determination today to "find out just what goes on" at the prisoner of war camp at Trinidad, following discovery of snapshots picturing Nazi soldier-prisoners in the embrace of Japanese girl farm-workers.

No arrests were made, but five Japanese girls were questioned by the G-men in Trinidad in an attempt to shed light upon pictures found on an escaped German prisoner of war when he was recaptured at Las Vegas, N. M., last week.

Agents in Trinidad refused to comment, but their chief at the Denver region office, Gordon A. Nicholson, explained their activities. "We are trying to find out just what goes on at the prisoner of war camp and in its immediate vicinity," Nicholson said. "The Japanese girls are being questioned about the snapshots which showed them in the arms of war prisoners and kissing them."

Police Of Eight States Hunting Prison Fugitive

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Police of eight states today sought a 27-year-old life termer who escaped from Eastern Penitentiary, presumably in a navy truck, and forced Anthony Cella, a former acquaintance and the latter's wife and child, to drive him through Philadelphia.

The convict was identified as Victor Andreoli, 27, who was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1937 for the cafe-slaying of a state trooper.

Cella's wife, Lillian, said Andreoli entered her Olney home late yesterday, and held her and her daughter, Angela, captive at knife-point, while he changed into her husband's clothes.

When Cella returned from work, the fugitive held the 12-inch prison-made blade at six-year-old Angela's throat, and forced the family to drive him to the Olney business district. He left the car there, saying:

"Tell the cops I'll never be taken alive. The first cop that lays a hand on me dies."

Cella immediately reported the incident to police, who made out a complete description of Andreoli.

Must Kill Several Million Japs For Permanent Peace

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—American soldiers and sailors will have to kill 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 Japs before there can be any lasting peace with Japan is the opinion held today by F. L. Oliver, retired United States Navy captain.

Captain Oliver, one of the speakers at the Navy Day dinner last night sponsored by the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and naval personnel on duty in the Pittsburgh area, spent most of his life in the service of his country and is now inspector of naval materials for the Pittsburgh district.

The speaker warned that treaties will never maintain peace in the world and that only a powerful United States navy can assure this country peace.

Protest Freight Rate Reductions To Benefit South

State Protesting Against Revision Plan At Expense Of Northern Industries

By JOHN PAGET (U. S. Staff Correspondent) HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The objections of the state justice department and various Pennsylvania Chambers of Commerce to a revision of freight rates favoring southern manufacturers at the expense of northern industries were before the interstate commerce commission today.

Deputy Attorney General E. A. Delaney, who aided Parker McCollister, New York counsel for the objectors, to draft the 175-page summary of protests, said the federal agency was expected soon to "set the case down for a hearing or decide the issue on the basis of the briefs."

Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland and various Chambers of Commerce and commercial organizations in the so-called eastern trunk line territory have opposed the application of southern manufacturers for a reclassification of rates because "the revision would bring about changes in the freight rate structure which would be injurious to northern interests."

The I. C. C. was told that "the record leaves no doubt that the governors of the southern states and their allies, the governors of the southwestern states and the Tennessee valley authority, in seizing upon the territorial freight rate structure as an effective topic with which to boom the south, do not speak for their states as a whole and certainly do not for the industries and shippers of their states."

The brief emphasized that economic theories advanced by southern interests, alleging industries throughout the south would be "stimulated" by a rate revision were "incorrect." The commission was warned of the "political atmosphere" which surrounded the petition.

The objectors denied that the industrial development of the south had been hampered by restrictive freight rates and emphasized that "the south's industrial development has gone forward with more rapid strides than any other section of the country."

"The southern governors and their theorists, in stressing their desire to increase industrial employment in the south," the brief stated, "have endeavored to create an impression of economic justification for their demand by advancing the claim that the country as a whole will benefit."

"However," it was concluded, "the commission cannot ignore the effect which a shift in industry from the north to the south would have upon the north."

Japan Must Be Smashed At Heart

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Undersecretary of the Navy James Forrestal said Wednesday that America cannot expect a quick termination of the war and warned that Japan must be smashed by "hammering blows at the heart."

At a navy day speech, Forrestal also urged that the United States take a strong position in the post-war world to prevent another global conflict.

He warned that extensive preparations still must be made for the smashing of Japan and because of that "we cannot expect a quick termination of this war."

During the period when industries are returning to the production of our normal needs," Edwards said, "there will be painful periods of readjustment when many of our factories will be forced to shut down—sometimes for months."

Mrs. K. E. Beck Is Elected As President Of New Organization In City

After a lapse of nearly 20 years New Castle again has a League of Women Voters organization here following the meeting of a group of women Wednesday afternoon in the lounge of the Y. W. C. A. to elect officers and a board of directors. Mrs. Kenneth Field, president of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, spoke.

Mrs. K. E. Beck in her introductory remarks pointed out that the league is the only national organization whose sole aim is better government and outlined briefly the ways in which the league goes about accomplishing this.

For election Mrs. John E. Elliott took the chair following the report of the nominating committee made by Mrs. J. J. McIlwaine. Those elected are: president, Mrs. Kenneth H. Beck; vice-president, Mrs. R. M. Patterson; recording secretary, Mrs. Alec Samuels; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Russell Melvin; treasurer, Mrs. Robert P. Bates; board of directors elected for one year, Mrs. Bernard Hook, Mrs. Blanche Dillard, Mrs. Charles E. Allen, Miss Marguerite Uhl and Mrs. J. J. McIlwaine.

All candidates up for election to major offices at election next Tuesday had been invited to speak at this meeting of the league. Joseph P. Travers, commissioner candidate, outlined the duties of a county commissioner and gave a report of the county's financial standing and allocation of funds.

A. D. Anderson, candidate for mayor, also spoke briefly. Mrs. Field, prefacing her remarks with the reminder that a new league's first responsibility is to help get out the vote, talked on legislation pending in congress. She also gave a number of startling figures.

Talking on taxation she pointed out that the United States is going into debt at the rate of $50,000,000 a year and that our per capita debt is $935 per person as contrasted with Great Britain's $164. Mrs. Field mentioned bills proposed that have to do with the service vote, a federal education subsidy bill and food subsidies. In conclusion she read article 3 of section 11 of the state constitution which is up for amendment on the ballot Tuesday. This amendment is a permissive measure to permit the legislature to decide by what means electoral districts shall be set. As the constitution now reads this is the business of the court of quarter sessions.

It was decided by the board of directors to hold meetings on the fourth Wednesday of each month at the Y. W. C. A. from 2 to 3:30. The next meeting will be November 24 when it is hoped to secure a well-known speaker.

NEW YORK MAYOR

WOULD LIFT TAXES ON OLEOMARGERINE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Mayor La Guardia of New York appealed to Congress today to lift Federal taxes on oleomargarine to relieve what he termed a serious shortage of butter and fats.

Appearing before the House agriculture committee which is considering such a proposal, La Guardia told members of the dairy states that their traditional opposition to lifting restrictions on oleomargarine should be laid aside in time of war and he argued that "not one pound of milk will go unused as a result."

The Jacobean period is dated from 1603 to 1660; the Queen Anne period from 1702 to 1714; the Shippendale from 1740 to 1770; the Heppelwhite, Sheraton, and Adams Brothers period from 1770 to 1792.

Seven More Mines Are Closed In Area

Pennsylvania-West Virginia Area Affected By Overnight Action

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—While the nation waited for John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers to consider the War Labor Board's decision in the coal wage controversy seven more mines were shut down overnight in the Pennsylvania-West Virginia area.

The latest walkouts were at the Sagamore mine of the Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal Company's pit at Sagamore, Pa., affecting 475 men; and at the Bird Coal Company's mines at Tire Hill, Somerset county, involving 550 men.

Tristate mine operators were alarmed at the possibility of a week-end shutdown when the present truce expires officially Sunday midnight, in the absence of official instructions to the contrary.

Since the WLB rejected the contract between Illinois coal operators and the UMW, 14 mines were closed in West Virginia, and it was feared the "wildcat" strikes may spread beyond control of union leaders.

John P. Busarello, president of UMW District No. 5, said he had not received a summons from Lewis to the union's policy committee meeting in Washington on Monday, a day after the end of the strike truce. Edward Sweeney, secretary of District No. 2, also had failed to receive a summons.

REPORT 32 ITALIANS

EXECUTED BY NAZIS

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—A dispatch from an Exchange Telegraph company correspondent on the fifth army front in Italy reported today that 32 Italians were executed in a mass shooting by the Germans in the town of Belloni, five miles north of Capua.

The victims, including three priests, three monks, a doctor, chemist and lawyer and a number of students, were reported slain in reprisal for the killing of one German.

"Aim for the heart and head!"

The following is paragraph (f) from a captured order issued by the headquarters, 125th German Infantry Regiment regarding mass executions.

(F) The execution is to be carried out in a very regimental manner with an officer in charge. Two to four men are to be detailed for each man to be shot. Aim for the heart and head. After the volley the officer responsible will, on orders from the attending medical officer, fire a final shot into the body of each with a regulation pistol. Death is to be certified by the medical officer.

Read it again. And again, until you have it memorized by heart. But don't shiver there in the security of your comfortable home. Borrow a cup of courage from this band of patriots who fell in graves...unmarked on their native heath, somewhere in Yugoslavia.

For their deeds they paid with their lives. Deeds which helped to bring victory to their allies in the desert there, across the Mediterranean. For their guerilla warfare tied up Nazi hordes, Italian divisions and all their fighting equipment and supplies that otherwise might have been ferried across to stem the rising tide of defeat.

But what keeps men like these—and their compatriots from Norway to China—fighting on? Your generosity helps. Your spare dollars buy the aid that keeps their fighting hearts pumping!

Call it charity if you dare. Better to call it your war job. And this job is on three fronts. For your dollars must maintain the morale of our own men—wherever they may fight. They must be used to help our allies—to keep them in the fight. Nor can they forget the needy here at home. Social agencies on the home front have, among their vital tasks, those of keeping up morale and keeping down divorce, desertion, broken homes and child neglect. Overtaxed hospital facilities must be reinforced by community home nursing programs. The stabilizing influence of essential recreational services is more important than ever.

Because today's job is a three-front job for your dollars, the seventeen American war agencies have banded together into the National War Fund—and joined with our local agencies in a single united campaign. They are asking you to give only once this time—instead of coming to you separately throughout the year.

This way, it is easier for you. It assures maximum effective use of the contributions you give—for one and all.

And because you will be asked to give but once...we ask you to give unstintingly for victory. Give in one sum the contributions you would normally make for these causes in a year. And then ask yourself if that is enough to pay for your share of the victory.

Honestly now...is it enough? You're right, brother! Doubling your contribution this year would be a good beginning.

Week-End Shutdown Of Soft Coal Mines Is Feared In State

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Possibility of a week-end shutdown of Pennsylvania's bituminous coal mines threatened today with word that John L. Lewis had delayed until next Monday a meeting of the United Mine Workers policy committee to consider the WLB decision in the wage controversy.

It was feared that miners would fail to report when the present strike truce officially expires at Sunday midnight in the absence of official instructions to the contrary.

The strike of the night shift of the Bird Coal company's Kelson mine, near Somerset, marked the only stoppage of operations in Pennsylvania since the WLB rejected the contract between Illinois coal operators and the UMW. Five hundred men are employed at the mines.

John P. Busarello, president of District No. 5, said he had not received a summons for the policy committee meeting, which was announced from Washington. Edward Sweeney, secretary of District No. 2, also, had been officially advised of the meeting.

Representatives of the industry in Pennsylvania which produces 156,000,000 tons annually and employs 117,000 workers, would not comment except to state that Lewis now holds the key to the entire situation.

MORE WOMEN THAN MEN AT STATE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 28.—(INS)—The largest class of freshman women in the history of Pennsylvania State college was expected to enroll tomorrow, according to Registrar William S. Hoffman.

Advance figures indicated 676 students will enter the college and 76 per cent, or 520, will be women.

New Castle Conclude Drills For Clairton Game

Squad Stages Long Practice Wednesday For Big Friday Tiff

Mike Roussos Doubtful Starter; Bridenbaugh Checks Defense Offense; Fans Excited

Their titanic Class AA WPIAL skirmish with Clairton's mighty juggernaut less than 24 hours away, New Castle high's undefeated "Canes" don practice raiment for the last time tonight under Taggart stadium lights.

The final session will be tame and confined strictly to signal drills.

At the conclusion, the coaches and athletes will have a heart to heart talk in the dressing room. The battle plans will be carefully checked after which the boys will be ordered home for an early nap.

Roussos Doubtful Starter

Injury to Mike Roussos, star tackle, has forced Coach Bridenbaugh to revamp his battle plans. The husky lineman, one of the best performers in the district, suffered a dislocated right shoulder for the second time this season during Tuesday's scrimmage.

Roussos is listed as a doubtful starter. Marshall Lucidore or John Gabriel, a pair of rugged linemen, will answer the kickoff whistle if Big Mike sits out.

The athlete's shoulder has been set back in place. While there is a possibility that he may play, his effectiveness is bound to suffer.

Coach Bridenbaugh said that the remainder of the lineup will be unchanged with Newman and Lengyel at ends; Santilippo at one of the tackle posts; Joseph and Izzo guards; Bob Preston, center; Williams and McKee, halfbacks; Liebendorfer, quarterback; and Lewis, fullback.

Guarded to make a smack against the T-formation for the first time this season, the locals have spent considerable time mapping a plan to check the deceptive and hard-to-stop system. Defensively, the "Canes" probably will line up in 6-3-2.

Offensively, Bridenbaugh has been trying out a few new plays which he'll try because he figures he'll need them.

Stage Long Workout

Yesterday, the squad staged one of the longest workouts of the season, quitting the stadium after four hours.

The tired athletes filed into the dressing room satisfied with the results of the long practice.

One of the boys said:

"We're all set for the big game. We're raring to go and can hardly wait until that kickoff whistle sounds."

For the first time in years, the defending AA champs will enter the game as underdogs. Roussos' injury means a bigger edge for the undefeated and untied Clairtons who will be seeking their 21st straight victory since 1941.

While the Clairtons are the pre-game favorites, a Ne-Ca-Hi victory is not impossible, not by a long stretch of the imagination. The Hartman club, winner seven straight times this season, hasn't played an eleven as rugged as the locals. Stiffer opposition could stifle the mighty Clairtons.

Be that as it may, the contest promises to be one of the best of the season in Western Pennsylvania. The victorious team doesn't figure to pull ahead by more than two touchdowns. Chances of a rout are slim, unless the locals find the T too complicated.

Fans Excited

New Castle sets sail for the battlefield tomorrow afternoon about 4. Enroute, the local party will stop in Zelienople for lunch before continuing the junket.

Not since the days of the Massillon games have local fans displayed as much interest. As a result the "Canes" will perform before a large home town gallery.

A roll of 1,000 general admission tickets were placed on sale this morning at 10 o'clock in The Sporting Goods Store. Ticket Manager Bob Mills announced.

Stapel, Penn State Freshman Flash, May Play Saturday

Avalon Dons Suit Again; Sidelined By Serious Knee Injury; Now Ready

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 28.—Charley Stapel, star freshman back, may don a Penn State football uniform for the first time Saturday when the Lions play West Virginia here.

The Avalon, Pa., youth, a sure bet for the varsity until he injured his knee in pre-season scrimmage, was back on the firing line when the Lions resumed practice yesterday and Coach Bob Higgins indicated he would use him against the Mountaineers.

Hard Runner

Stapel, a hard runner who is difficult to bring down once past the line of scrimmage, has been trying to play for more than two weeks but the Nuttany coach has remained adamant on the grounds that "a bad knee needs plenty of rest."

The freshman ace has just about convinced Higgins that he is ready, however, and fully expects to see action against West Virginia. His cause is enhanced by the fact that 17 players, six of them backs, have played their last game for the Lions and will go to Paris Island for "boot" training with the U. S. Marines before the close of the week. In addition to his running ability, Stapel is considered a good kicker and passer.

BIVINS-MURRAY FIGHT CANCELED

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Lee Q. Murray, Connecticut heavyweight, won't get his long-sought bout with Jimmy Bivins Nov. 10 at Cleveland after all. Reason: "C'est La Guerre."

Tex Sullivan, Murray's manager, said today he received a wire from Larry Atkins, Cleveland promoter, saying Bivins' draft board had barred the bout for the present and ordered the Cleveland fighter to remain in essential work.

Mattioli Picked To Captain Pitt

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Frank Mattioli, senior left guard, was named today as acting captain for the Pitt Panthers in their city rivalry game Saturday with Carnegie Tech Tartans.

It is a repeat performance for Mattioli, who led the eleven into action in their opener against Notre Dame university.

The Jungle Cats are favored at a minimum of four touchdowns Saturday when Pitt and Carnegie Tech meet for the 30th time.

The Tartans will play Tom Hurst, regular left wing, who also missed last week's game at Morgantown but who hoped to return for the final contest.

Grid Tidbits

REPLACE PAUL WHITE
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Fullback Earl Maves and Wally Dreyer were attempting at right half for Michigan today to fill the vacancy caused by the departure of Capt. Paul White. Both men are likely to see plenty of action in Saturday's game with Illinois.

CATS EMPHASIZE DEFENSE
EVANSTON, Ill.—Northwestern emphasized defense against Minnesota formations today as the Wildcats prepared for their traditional rivalry with the Gophers at Evanston Saturday. Besides winning the last three games, Minnesota holds a series advantage of 16 victories to eight for Northwestern.

PAUL BROWN PLEASED
COLUMBUS, O.—Coach Paul Brown was pleased today over the passing of Freshman Paul Davis in the Ohio State Buckeyes drills on aerial offense for Saturday's game with Indiana. Davis completed four of his five tosses in the Northwestern game and has shown steady improvement this week.

YALE STANDS PAT
NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Coach Howie Odell said today Yale would enter Saturday's game against Dartmouth with the same team that started against Army last week. George Egan, whose ankle was injured recently, will alternate with Scooter Scussell, shifted to wingback.

PRINCETON, N. J.—Election of Wayne E. Harding, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., as captain of the Princeton squad for the remainder of the season was announced today by Coach Harry Mahken.

Coaches Will Get Additional Gasoline

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—Office of Price Administration has reaffirmed its approval of supplemental gasoline rations for qualified school athletic officials, David M. Klinedinst, district O.P.A. rationing attorney, said.

"The national O.P.A. office has ruled that preferred mileage may be granted to athletic coaches, instructors and school officials who are employees of a governmental agency such as a public school district or state university, if the ration board finds that it is the official duty of such employees, and compensation is paid for such services or travel expenses, and that travel on such duties is necessary."

The applicants, however, must satisfy the requirements of the ration regulations. Klinedinst added, ruling that no such supplemental rations may be issued to private schools and colleges, nor to amateur clubs.

PRO FOOTBALL ATTENDANCE UP

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Attendance at the first 18 games played this year by the National Professional Football league was 28.7 per cent over the first 18 games of 1942, the league announced today.

Figures released by Commissioner Elmer Layden's office showed that an average of 25,589 persons had witnessed each game, making a total gain of more than 109,000 over last year.

THIRD OVER MAJORS
FORT DEVENS, Mass.—When Eddie Murphy, former Holy Cross star, beat the Philadelphia Athletics 5-1, it marked the third time this season Murphy has pitched for the Fort Devens soldiers when they trimmed major league opposition.

Butkovich Leading Scorer In Big Ten

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Western Conference announced today that rugged Tony Butkovich, Purdue fullback, holds the individual scoring honors for the conference.

Butkovich scored 10 touchdowns in conference play. Besides averaging 20 points a game, Butkovich leads in rushing with an average of 160 yards a game.

Second to Butkovich is Bill Daley of Michigan, who has scored 26 points on four touchdowns and two conversions. In rushing, Daley has averaged 132.5 yards, close enough to have been a real threat to Butkovich.

Bob Hoernschmeyer, the young Hoosier, holds the passing honors. He has completed 22 out of 51 for 316 yards or an average of 105 a game and a percentage of 451 completions.

Angott Retains Crown; Easily Defeats White

Over 15,000 Witness California's First 135-Pound Title Go Since 1914

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Sammy Angott, the Washington, Pa., slugger retained his N. B. A. world's lightweight boxing title today after winning a unanimous 15-round decision from Luther (Slugger) White, Baltimore negro.

Two judges gave Angott every round. The referee, Benny Whitman, scored 14 rounds for Angott.

Upwards of 15,000 fans filled Hollywood ball park to see the title bout. California's first 135-pound championship match since 1914.

Angott weighed 134, White 135.

Lights Stop Fight
The fight was held up an hour in the fourth round when the lights in the ball park failed. The boys picked up again in the fourth, minus 10 seconds, and although Sam Lampe, White's manager, said the long period of waiting hurt his fighter, Angott said it didn't bother him.

White must be given credit for a game performance despite his defeat. He never stopped trying and came boring in to give the fans a fight to watch.

The negro lad, accustomed to brushing his opponents aside through sheer power of his left sent punting, was beaten because he was unable to master Angott at close range.

Fair or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Re-appointment of Leo Durocher as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers can be marked down as the greatest victory ever scored by the man known as Leo the Lip. He has made the grade against odds of about 100 to 1. He is Rickey's man now. Not signed to a sudden-death player-manager contract or staying in office by sufferance. He has the backing of the club president and as such has convinced a man who is a different from himself as Sunday school and a crap game.

Durocher is a loud fast-talking, free-wheeling guy who nearly let the Dodgers gamble themselves into obscurity by his own admission. Rickey is a college graduate, a devout churchman and strictly a heavier-to-the-line.

When Rickey re-named Durocher to head the Dodger club in 1944 he tossed his fedora into the ring in behalf of a manager who had a club rebellion on his hands last July and who was uncertain at the end of the season as to where he stood with his players. Everybody knows the score now: Durocher is the boss.

Rickey's backing, and any Dodger who doesn't like that can pack up and get.

Now Durocher Fan
That Rickey is a Durocher fan by this time seemed to have been indicated when Rickey lauded his manager for the fine job he has done in putting down gambling on the club. Rickey was especially pleased by this display of character on the part of Durocher, who, when he was re-hired by Rickey to manage last season's team, admitted that the gambling among his players had hurt the club's chances in the pennant race.

The only fly in the Brooklyn "ointment" is way Rickey went about this re-hiring of Durocher. For some reason known only to his closest of kin, Rickey never seems to do anything in a direct way. First he gave out the impression that Durocher was to be let go, then after a month or so he began needing the press with the notion that perhaps he would have an announcement to make eventually.

Finally, he did make an announcement, but even that was larded over with such a mess of verbiage in double-talk that you had to ask twice and listen intently to know for sure whether Durocher was being re-hired.

Anyway, Durocher is back and this is a personal victory for him. It is almost unbelievable that he and Rickey can get along together.

WOULD REVEAL FLAWS
NEW YORK.—An electric eye, claims Lou Oshins, Brooklyn college coach, would reveal something wrong with every football play.

Union Eleven Loses Finale To Mars, 18-0

Visitors Tally In First Three Periods Of Contest Played Here

Powerful Mars high handed Union township in an 18-0 setback in the football finale for the Scotland Laners, Wednesday afternoon on Union field.

The invaders annexed their initial score on a concerted 60-yard march in the first period after the locals were forced to kick. Steiner led the parade with substantial gains. Smutney clipped in juicy yardage down the home stretch. Steiner moved to the 2 from the 5 and next carried over.

Union Threatens
Union threatened in the same period, reaching the Mars 40 but the Mars line held. Brown featured the shortlived rally by dashing around end for 25 yards.

Smutney's pass to Held on the Union 28 set the stage for the second score. Held airtied to Penney on the 20 and Steiner and Smutney hit the line to the 7. After Steiner lost 5, Mars chewed off 5 yards on line smashes. Held next passed to Iman for the "touch."

A Union fumble set up the final score with the visiting club recovering on the local 20. Held pushed ahead four yards on two smashes and Smutney scored on an end scamper.

Marburger, Held, Smutney, Steiner, Lehm and Stelson featured for the winners. Mico, Brown, Foreman, Rotunno and Bigley were Union's standouts.

This marked the final game for Foreman and Babb.

The lineup:

Union Mars
Smith L. E. W. Adams

SPUD CHANDLER PLACED IN 1-A

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Spud Chandler, Yankee pitcher and hero of the recent world series, revealed in St. Petersburg today that he has been reclassified into 1-A draft status.

Chandler said his home draft board at Royston, Ga., notified him of the classification. He expects to report in a few days for a preliminary examination.

The Yankee pitcher is married and has a family.

Unusual Optimism Around ND Campus

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 28.—(INS)—Unusual optimism over the Naval Academy game in Cleveland Saturday emanated from the Notre Dame campus today. Coach Frank Leahy announced "the Irish went through their best workout of the season."

Bob Kelly, freshman right halfback, was declared eligible after making up V-12 academic shortcomings and will be used as a substitute for Julie Rykovich against the Navy.

Zivic Is Favored To Whip Ohioan

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Fritz Zivic, former welterweight champion, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was ruled a 9 to 5 favorite today to win his 10-round boxing bout from 21-year-old Bobby Richardson, of Cleveland, O., in the main event of the Chicago stadium card tomorrow night.

Both fighters will taper off their training with light exercise today.

Wants It Replayed

AMOS ALONZO STAGG, veteran coach who now teaches the College of Pacific graders, wants the recent College of Pacific-Southern California game replayed. So, Cal. won the game, 6 to 0, although Pacific scored a touchdown only to have it called back by a penalty. So, Cal. officials are interested in replaying the game in December. Stagg is shown above as he was honored before that game. (International)

NEW YORK—Jockey Wayne Wright was fined $25 for disobedience at the post Monday at Jamaica. He was up on Brick Top, who finished out of the money.

Bessemer-Shenango Play For B Title On Friday

Contest On Shenango Gridiron Starts At 2:15; Bessemer Is Favored

With New Castle carded away, Bessemer and Shenango Township high have the spotlight to themselves Friday afternoon when the rivals meet on Shenango field for the 1943 County Class B championship. The game starts at 2:15 o'clock.

The host club will be seeking revenge for last season's 13-6 setback on Bessemer field. Shenango has shown remarkable improvement in the past few weeks and stands an excellent chance of dumping the favored Centennials.

Uses Single Wing
Coach Eddie Nahas has been employing a single wing attack with Stoltica, Kizko, Tanner and Kala-jainen sharing the backfield posts. On the line, Pulvi is the key performer on a well-rounded front wall.

Shenango has captured three victories, lost two decisions and played a 6-6 tie with Hopewell.

The pre-game statement made by one of the Shenango officials:

"We are not too optimistic. We feel that Bessemer packs more experience than we do. Bessemer, however, will have to play its best to top us."

The Centennials are in top condition for the veto, according to Coach Joe Weresuk.

Wilbur Miller spearheads a versatile backfield which occasionally uses the T-formation. Johnson is an effective ground gainer. The line is tough from end to end.

Bessemer bids for its fourth triumph against two setbacks and a pair of deadlocks.

Bessemer is favored to retain the championship.

Lineup:
Bessemer Shenango
Lorella L. E. Mocrone
Rocky Mittica L. T. Nagel
Gatto L. G. Pulvi
Kresovich C. Marks
Rich Mittica R. G. Gill
Pezzuolo R. T. De Antonio

Large Drop In State Employees

Budget Secretary Gives Figures On Employment In State Department

ALL TIME HIGH WAS IN OCTOBER OF 1938

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—In a statement today Dr. Edward B. Logan, budget secretary, compared state employment of today with the all time high in October, 1938. His statement follows:

"On August 31, 1943, there were 42,786 salary, per diem and hourly state employees. This compares with a total of 92,234 salary, per diem and hourly employees in the state service on October 31, 1938, the all time high in state employment. In other words, on August 31 of this year there were 49,448 less employees than there were on October 31, 1938—a reduction of 54 per cent. Another way of stating this is that the state government is now being operated with 46 per cent as many employees as were employed on October 31, 1938.

"This difference runs into an enormous sum in cost. Assuming an average compensation per employee of $1200, which for an average is low, there is a spread of $59,000,000 per year in the expenditure for personnel October 31, 1938, as compared with August 31, 1943.

ASTOUNDING DIFFERENCE
"An examination of the number of employees in some of the departments for those two periods shows some astounding difference. The highway department on October 31, 1938, had 3755 employees on a salary basis alone. On August 31, 1943, there were 1626 employees—a decrease of 2129 or 57 per cent.

Choking, gasping, wheezing, recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma ruin your sleep and rob your blood of vitally important oxygen because you can't get air in and out of your lungs properly. Within a very short time after the first dose, Mendaco ingredients start circulating thru the blood, thus reaching the smallest as well as the largest Bronchial tubes where they usually quickly help liquefy, loosen and remove thick strangling mucus (phlegm), thereby promoting freer breathing and more restful sleep. In fact, Mendaco has proved so successful in helping thousands of sufferers from recurring spasms of Bronchial Asthma that it is sold under a guarantee of money back unless completely satisfactory. "In the department of revenue on October 31, 1938, there was a total of 3097 employees. On August 31, 1943, there were 1620—a decrease of 1477 or 47 per cent.

"In the Public Utility Commission on October 31, 1938, there were 749 employees. On August 31, 1943, there were 304—a decrease of 445 or 59 per cent.

"In the Department of Labor and Industry, including state workmen's insurance fund, on October 31, 1938, there were 1469 employees. On August 31, 1943, there were 833—a decrease of 636 or 43 per cent.

"It is of interest to see how the state's personnel mounted and how it has been brought down. In January, 1935, there was a total of 18,654 employees on a salary basis in the state service. The high point in the number of state employees was the end of October, 1938, when there were 92,234 state employees on a salary basis.

"In terms of cost the yearly payroll of salaried employees as of January, 1935, was $27,112,504 as compared with $48,924,440 on October 31, 1938—an increase in payroll of $21,811,936 yearly as of the latter date.

"The number of state salaried employees dropped from 34,000 on October 31, 1938, to 25,765 on August 31, 1943—a decline of 8,235 or 24 per cent. And the decline is still rapidly downwards.

"At the beginning of the present administration there were 28,692 salaried employees whereas on August 31, 1943, there were 25,353, excluding 412 transferred from a daily payment basis to salary. During the course of the first eight months of this administration there was, therefore, a decline of 3,345 employees or a yearly saving of $5,090,000."

Assets Of Interned Japs Are Frozen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—The Treasury on Wednesday issued an order "freezing" the assets of three interned Japanese citizens, long-time California residents, whose business interests are in the hands of seven California business concerns.

The order affects the property rights of H. Y. Minami and his two sons, which are valued at about one-half million dollars.

J. W. Pehle, director of the foreign funds control division of the Treasury, said that this "protective" measure was taken because complaints had been received that the assets of Minami and his sons were being "dissipated."

The order was the first of its kind. Pehle said that whenever necessary to protect the property rights of interned Japanese citizens, similar action will be taken. The senior Jap and his two sons have been in an internment camp since Pearl Harbor.

Trainloads Of Free Postage Mail Sent Out Of Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(INS)—Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, testified before the Senate economy committee that free postage government mail flowed out of Washington by the trainload.

"We often get so many truckloads of mail from the armed forces alone that they fill several railroad cars," Walker said. In answer to a question by Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar (D-Tenn., chairman of the Senate committee on post offices.

"Could" some weight limitation be placed on this mail? McKellar asked. "I notice that a lot of it comes to my own home apartment here in Washington. All that I receive in a year is not worth two bits."

Senator Harry Byrd (D) of Va. cited figures to show that in 1930 the postage for free government mail would have been only $9,000,000 but that this year it would run to $103,000,000 if the departments were required to buy stamps.

Byrd also said that in 1930 free government mail weighed 42 million pounds but that in 1941 it had risen to 151 million and in 1943 to 296 million pounds.

Walker had no criticism of the free mail sent out by the armed forces, holding that only they know what is essential and that they probably are not mailing more than is necessary.
